GIVING TEXTILES A SECOND LIFE

Through Textile Thrifting and Textile Upcycling.

Our Story

Prasthara was born from a simple belief: what we throw away often still holds value.

While some clothes are no longer wanted but still have plenty of life left in them, many usable fabrics including offcuts from tailor shops and textiles are often discarded. We at Prasthara see an opportunity to change that.

Through textile thrifting, we help clothes find new homes. Through textile upcycling, we transform discarded fabrics into handmade products such as aprons, bags and other useful items.

The name Prasthara means spreading. Through our work, we hope to inspire people in making more sustainable choices.

What We Do

TEXTILE THRIFTING

Many clothes are discarded long before they are worn out.

Through textile thrifting, we curate and sell pre-loved clothing, helping garments find new homes and continue their journey.

TEXTILE UPCYCLING

Not every textile can be worn again. Some fabrics are damaged, outdated or no longer suitable as clothing. Instead of discarding them, we transform them into handmade products such as:

- Cooking aprons
- Bags
- Pouches
- Home and lifestyle products
- Custom creations

Each piece is unique because it begins with a different textile story.

Why It Matters

Textiles are often discarded long before their potential is fully used.

By choosing to thrift a garment or create something new from discarded fabric, we can extend the life of materials that already exist. Every pre-loved clothe that finds a new owner and every fabric offcut transformed into a useful product is one less textile thrown away.

At Prasthara, we believe sustainability doesn't always require something new. Sometimes, it begins with seeing value in what is already around us.
